

Grange primary school - Shropshire Star coverage of Ofsted report

Dear Miss Williams

In the light of the recent Ofsted report and specifically the Shropshire Star coverage I wanted to write . I and other colleagues from the Children and Young People's team in Public Health have liaised with you over a number of years. I have visited the school on a number of occasions , delivered staff and parents meetings . I have always been impressed with the work you are doing, your commitment, understanding and focus on the best interests of the children.

Your and the whole school approach to equalities work in particular is exemplary, and I was very pleased that the school received a certificate of recognition at the LGBT festival. The school has also demonstrated commitment in relation to targeted emotional and mental health work and you are clear about extending this as part of mainstream curriculum delivery.

The fact that vulnerable pupils are supported and pupils well cared for and feeling safe with good early years teaching and learning is so vitally important. What a shame the press article headline did not focus on this.

Best wishes

Alice
