- We all have the right to achieve our full potential.
- Children learn most effectively through first-hand experiences, play and talk

- Everyone learns best when they are happy, secure and have a high sense of well being
- Children and families need to feel safe and secure within our school
- Children thrive when parents/carers, staff and children share their learning
- Seeking the views of all those involved in the school is important and helps us plan future developments
- Equality should be promoted, diversity celebrated and discrimination addressed
