Governors come into school at regular intervals and work alongside the teacher and pupils within their linked class.

This is not a formal observation but an opportunity to view the everyday practices of the school and to build up a relationship with the pupils within the class.

Governors may be asked to support some group work, listen to pupils read etc. They are encouraged to ask the staff and pupils questions about the teaching and learning that they observe.

Governors are also encouraged to come along to their linked class's assembly and curriculum express days if they are available. They may also be asked to support on their class school trip, again if they have the time available.

The following weeks have been set for Governors to come into school this year. Please note that these dates are flexible and that Governors should liaise a suitable date and time through Mrs S Kemp in the school office.
