

Religious Education Teaching and Learning Principles

Date adopted	May 2017	Owner	Governors
Last reviewed	May 2017	Review cycle	Three Years

The teaching and learning of Religious Education is underpinned by our Christian Values and our 'Teaching and Learning Principles.' RE at St Martin's explores how individuals and communities make meaning and sense of their lives through the major religions of the world. Learners are inspired by the subject and learn exceptionally well. They develop and apply a wide range of higher level skills to great effect. Pupils throughout the school are impressive in the way that they use creativity and originality to apply their knowledge and skills in Religious Education to their own personal reflections on questions of meaning and purpose.

All learners at St Martin's are enabled and supported to:

Strive † Aspire † Succeed

So that every child is a reader, communicator, mathematician, scientist and is also active, creative, spiritual, happy and safe

Below are the teaching and learning principles that are specific to Religious Education at St Martins. These should be used in conjunction with our teaching and learning principles.

