This week

This week we have started daily phonics sessions involving listening walks, using musical instruments to distinguish syllables and rhyme time. We have also enjoyed our number work this week, identifying and talking about numerals.

Next week: Phonics Meeting 4/10/17 at 2pm or 4pm and Reception Welcome Service 5/10/17 at 9am

'Super Me!' topic

The children have a keen interest in birthdays and parties, in addition our class story; 'So Much' revolves around a family's surprise birthday party. We have therefore decided to have a birthday party next Thursday. This is a fantastic learning opportunity for all areas of the curriculum including literacy, maths and understanding the world. We are looking forward to activities such as; baking and mark making lists and invitations.

To support the children's ongoing number work here are some ideas for learning at home.

- ✓ Count anything and everything! (steps, claps, the dots on a dice, fingers, toes, etc).
- ✓ Have a number hunt! This could happen around the house, which numerals can we find? (front door, clocks, remote controls, phones, etc).

Christian Value Award

Throughout school we have a Christian Value award for children who show the value we focus on each half term. This half term, we are thinking about 'thankfulness'. Our deserving winner is Finley! Well done Finley!

This week's star of the week is Phoebe!

Well done Phoebe!

Have a lovely weekend!
