Online Safety

This term, all classes are learning about how to keep safe online. So far...

-Wagtails have learnt about compliments and how it is better to say nice things to people than mean things.

-Woodpeckers have been learning how to block things that they do not want to see.

-Robins have talked about appropriate ways to behave towards other people online, thinking about different scenarios and whether they are acceptable or not.

-Kestrels have thought about what a safe online profile looks like, what information you should and shouldn't share on social media, and what some of the possible consequences are of talking to strangers online.

We live in an increasingly technological world and whilst this offers exciting possibilities and should be seen as a positive and fun part of life, it is so important to be aware of and discuss the dangers with your child, and make sure they know what to do if anything happens online that they do not feel comfortable about.

'Think U Know' is a website aimed at parents and young people, and contains really useful information and advice regarding all aspects of Internet Safety.
