We have had a fabulous first term with so many brilliant achievements and events. Our Christmas performance by Years 3 and 4 was superb and I was so proud of all the children who took part.

The Christmas music concert was also so lovely to be a part of, again the children showed great courage and resilience in their performances.

Thank you for all your on-going support this term and we are looking forward to a fantastic 2018 here at Larkfields.

I hope you have a great Christmas and New Year and we look forward to seeing you all on the 8th January 2018!

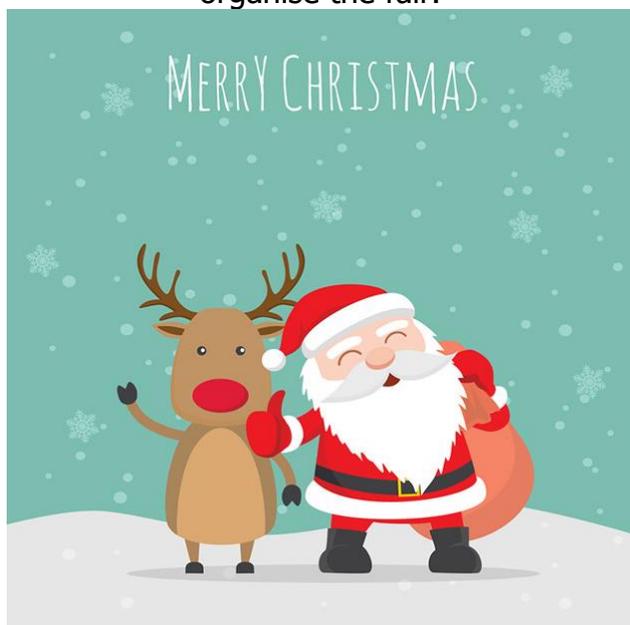

Jess Scott

Academy Update

Thank you for your responses to our consultation about academy. The Parent consultation is now closed, and I hope you found the FAQ letter useful.

The governors will make a final decision at the end of January based on the information from the consultations.

Take Care Reps

The Reps have been busy organising the Talent Show and have judged our poster competition. The competition was amazing with over 60 entries. The 2 winning posters have gone up in school, congratulations to Oscar Jaggard, Jack and Olivia Faulkner and Sarah Pickard (piano cover) for their winning entries.

Some of the other entries can be seen in the ICT suite.

Focus on... Christmas - Taking Care

Have a look at these acts of kindness, which ones could you complete?

Compliment someone.	Clean your room	Donate toys you no longer play with to a charity of your choice.	Read or tell a story to someone younger than you.	Smile at two people today.	Write a positive note to a classmate.	Ask someone how their day is going.
Give everyone in your family a hug.	Make a yummy treat for someone you care about.	Leave a note at a house that has impressive Christmas decorations or lights to say thank you.	Hold the door open for someone and let them go first.	Help do the washing up/ load the dishwasher after dinner.	Send a postcard or letter to a family member or friend who lives far away.	Make a thank you card for a community helper and include why you appreciate them.
Make a thank you card for someone at home.	Offer to help an elderly relative or neighbour.	Help set the table or clean up the table after dinner.	Let someone go in front of you in a queue.	Make your bed without being asked.	Donate clothes you no longer wear to charity.	Make a list of things you really want to achieve in the new year. Write a note to yourself and pack it away with the decorations for you to find next year.
