

PUPIL PREMIUM REVIEW

Schools can commission a review of their school's pupil premium strategy, at any time. All schools should consider whether they could benefit from the fresh perspective of an experienced school leader to help them try new approaches or improve current provision to help raise the attainment of their disadvantaged pupils.

The reviewer will use half a day to research the school's pupil premium strategy, analyse school data and Ofsted reports, speak to the head, agree and share an itinerary for the visit, and understand the school profile and the amount of pupil premium funding.

A full day school visit is arranged to review the self-evaluation, chosen strategy's and impact. This will include governance, school leaders, staff and pupils.

At this stage the reviewer and the school may agree to commission further support.

Charges are £550 per day

"The purpose of a pupil premium review is to use an evidence-based approach to assess how a school is spending its pupil premium funding, and identify the most effective interventions and overall strategy."

Strategy

The pupil premium review framework sets out a six step process and the approximate amount of time needed. However, the framework is flexible and be adapted to suit the needs of the school.

In some cases, the Department for Education, Local Authority or Regional Schools Commissioner, may recommend that schools commission a review if there are concerns about the results of your disadvantaged pupils.

Gaynor and Gill have undertaken pupil premium reviewer training and can be commissioned to undertake a review.
