Doctor Repulsive was a grim wretched old man with black messy hair and sharp metal teeth which could crunch through the toughest bones. He was a grouchy old man who hated birthdays, Christmas, cake and happy children. What he liked was crying children, bogies, hurting people and stealing. He loosed around and out as many slugs he could find. The people of the street would say "do your homework or Doctor Repulsive will chop off your toes and leave a worm under your pillow." The whole town was scared of him and kept as far away as possible from him.

Fantastic description Lily, well done!

What is his house like?
