Entry Criteria:

A first degree at 2:1 or above. If you have a 2:2 talk to your choice of training school – you may have experience they are keen to use and will make a case for you to be accepted on the programme.

English, mathematics (and science if training in Early Years or Primary) at GCSE Grade 'C' or above. New equivalence of grade 5-4 or above.

Passed your skills tests

<http://sta.education.gov.uk/>

Experience of working in the age range you are interested in so you can demonstrate your interest and understanding at interview. If you believe you have transferrable skills ensure you can talk clearly about why they are important.

'I enjoyed training in school. I didn't want to feel like a student teacher – I wanted to be thought of as a member of staff in training. PG School Direct was a great experience for me'.

When can I apply for teacher training in 2018-9?

Applications open through UCAS on October 26th 2017.

All the information you need is available on line at:

<https://getintoteaching.education.gov.uk/explore-my-options/teacher-training-routes>

Have a look for your choice of age range and/or subject on the UCAS website and see what is available for you locally.

All schools that hold a school led training place will be pleased to talk to you about your potential application for training with them.

Chilton Primary School:

We are a thriving primary school near Durham who would like to hear from possible applicants for our exciting teacher training programme in 2018-9.

We are looking for:

A highly motivated applicant who wishes to train and work in Early Years, KS1 or KS2.

A person who manages their time well and can balance the demands of training in school with the academic requirements of the route

A 'self starter' who listens to and acts upon advice, is committed to their own education and wants to help pupils achieve their best possible outcomes at school.
