Bug-busting

"Bug-busting" consists of the approach listed above for detection of lice, repeated at regular intervals.

1. Wash the hair as normal.
2. Apply conditioner liberally, including the full length of long hair.
3. Lay out white tissues over which you will comb the hair.
4. Comb the hair through with a normal comb first, to get rid of any knots.
5. With a fine tooth comb ("nit comb"), starting from the roots of the hairs, comb out along the complete length of the hair. After each stroke check the comb for lice and wipe it clean. Work systematically around the whole head of hair. Continue for at least 30 minutes.
6. Rinse the hair as normal.
7. Repeat every two to four days for at least two weeks.

The conditioner causes the louse to lose its grip on the slippery hair, and also probably blocks the breathing apparatus (spiracle). This treatment has the benefit of not exposing the person to unnecessary chemicals, and reduces the likelihood of the lice becoming resistant to medications.
