- 1 With your console switched on go to the 'Settings' menu and select 'Parental Controls'.

- If you'd like to restrict the PS4 for your child select 'Sub Account Management', or if you'd like to restrict the PS4 for all users skip to step 5.

- Follow the on screen instructions to create a new sub account for your child.

- After entering your details you'll be able to choose what functionality you'd like to block when this account is active.

- 5 When you're done go back to the 'Parental Controls' menu and select 'Restrict Use of PS4 Features'. Here you can determine exactly what kind of content your child can access.

- 6 To make changes simply enter your 4-digit passcode. If you haven't yet created one, by default it will be 0000. Afterwards follow the on screen instructions and change the settings to suit your family needs.
