1.	Matters arising: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Pooping Chicken: started selling the squares this morning. We will wait until all 100 are sold before bringing in the chicken! Stickers: stickers have been printed and given to the office staff to hand out as needed.
2.	Open forum! We had a quick update as to where our toilet twinning project was at and what was still to come. We reflected a little on this past year, our first year as a Children's Government and how the children felt it had worked. We are no further forward with the race track as we are waiting for the results of some work the army did recently, measuring the current path/gradient at the back of school to see whether it would be viable to create a new path there. This would affect putting a race track down. We then went on to discuss that perhaps we could go for a climbing wal instead. We talked about who would like to remain on the government next year and who would rather not, and their reasons. We then had a discussion about whether one of our ministers who wishes to remain should automatically become the new Prime Minister. Our current Prime Minister gave her reasons for suggesting they should. It was pointed out that if we had returning ministers they would know how the government functions and would help to give some continuity. It was agreed that we should ask Miss Hemsley for her opinion on this.	Mrs I	asap
	AOB Health & Safety Governor visit: Mr Mitchell has asked if he could attend a meeting and talk to the ministers about related issues. The children have agreed that this would be a good idea. No meeting next week as Mrs Ingram is out.
