Please be cautious.

We again ask that you be vigilant when it comes to your children using the internet. It is a dangerous space where innocent users can easily be taken advantage of. We would like to draw your attention to the following links that can provide information to keep you and your family safe online or help should you have any concerns or worries.

<https://www.ceop.police.uk/safety-centre/> - should you wish to report an incident online.

<http://www.childline.org.uk/> - speak to someone re any concerns you may have.

Information for parents to educate themselves and their children.

Along with Roblox, where we know children are playing with people they do not know, we have also been warned about 'KIK' a popular messaging app. It is very unsafe and we urge you not to allow your children to use it.
