Welcome / purpose	Miss Hill explained that we were going to review collective worship and think about how we could improve them.
Patterns noted	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Service monitors found that children behaved much better during collective worship when staff reminded children at the start that they were looking for 5 people each to give dojos to.• They felt that some assemblies could be made more exciting and engaging for the children.• We discussed the monitoring forms again to see how effective they were.	Continue to hand out dojos and remind staff to mention at the start to remind the children that they are watching. The children commented on assemblies where staff include the children a lot more and made their collective worships more interactive. Would like to see more of this! Also felt that collective worship on a Friday was more enjoyable when teachers went into more detail and asked the St Peters winners about the work they have been doing rather than just telling the school why they have got it. Agreed to change the 'stickers given to' box to 'class dojo winners'. Making sure all staff choose a class at the end to give the dojo to.
