

SOUTHROYD SPECTACULAR

July 6th 2018

BIG TALK: How can we improve our reading this summer?

We are now in the habit of collecting data on the reading habits of our children and so we know that, although our habits have improved with a significant impact on the children's attainment—this can drop off in the summer holidays. So—over to you !

Please support, encourage and model reading over the holidays . As long as they are reading little and often it doesn't mater what it is ! Fiction, non fiction, newspapers, poetry, Bug Club, graphic novels, comics as long as they keep the reading habit up, for pleasure, that is the main point of holiday reading!

Please encourage this, as we know we need to 'READ TO SUCCEED.'

Recommended reading lists are on the website or why not just visit Pudsey library and have a browse. The Library service will be running an exciting Summer reading scheme where children earn prizes and recognition for reading 6+ books.

This is an excellent way to keep them reading. We will celebrate anyone who completes the challenge back in school in September.

Please read to and with your child—this is as valuable as them reading to you and sometimes a little more relaxing for them.

SOUTHROYD WORLD CUP

Well done to the first 3 semi-finalists decided for next week's lunchtime World Cup matches. Sweden have joined Brazil and Argentina in the last four.

Next week, England take on Iceland for the last of the semi-final places. It has already been a fantastic competition with some terrific team work and performances.

We look forward to the deciding rounds next week and beyond!

SUMMER FAIR : SUNDAY 8th July: 11—2pm

It's not too late to be an Active Citizen!

If you are able to help on the day don't be shy and let one of us know during the fair and we'll find you a job!

Also—we haven't sold as many raffle tickets as usual this year. You can still buy them on the day—so make sure you get yours if you haven't already.

Finally—please come along! It will be lovely to just hang out and spend an hour or 2 enjoying the sun and the company and MAKING SOME MEMORIES!

END OF TERM REMINDERS

Our school is open on Monday 23rd July and we do expect everyone to be in! It is a not to be missed day.

We will not be celebrating end of term on Friday so if your child isn't in on Monday , they will miss out on the very important end of term rituals that are such an important part of their transition to their new classes.

They will spend time with their Southroyd 'Family' on Monday . This year FOSS have paid for a fantastic ROLLER SKATING experience for reception upwards and there will be special treats for our youngest children too.

So - please remember MONDAY 23rd July is a SCHOOL DAY.

Tuesday 24th and 25th July - School closed for training days and the Summer Holidays.

Sunflowers and Bluebells are open all Summer.

School reopens TUESDAY 4th September.
