

Safeguarding at Langtons Infant School

There can be no issue of greater importance to parents and carers, or to schools, than the safety of their children.

Langtons Infant School shares this concern and is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people. We expect all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

This commitment is reflected in our recruitment practices, throughout the work of the school and all adults working in the school and through our physical site arrangements. Routine training is undertaken by all staff and all policies are reviewed regularly to evaluate practice.
