2. What is the ETHOS of the setting/ school/ academy /college regarding Children and Young People with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)?

Our aims and ethos underpin the work in the school and are incorporated within our school logo “We all achieve”.

We value children as an individual, and as such we

- give the best education and care that can be provided
- respect each child as unique
- address each child by their name
- ensure consistency across all settings
- encourage independence
- offer time to take part
- use communication systems appropriate to each child
- have high and realistic expectations for each child
- respect each child’s privacy
- involve children in conversations
- treat information with respect and confidentiality

We endeavour to provide an environment and culture where staff work co-operatively, in a professional manner, displaying positive attitudes towards other staff, pupils their families and other professionals. We invest in our staff who we regard to be a group of highly competent staff, clear in their intentions for pupils’ learning and who have skills in assessment, planning, and recording so that children are provided with a highly differentiated curriculum which meets individual needs.

5. How does the setting/ school/ academy /college:

- Identify and assess Children and Young People with SEND?
- Evaluate the effectiveness of provision for Children and Young People with SEND?
- Assess and review progress of Children and Young People with SEND?

On entry to the school, pupils will have a Statement of Special Educational Needs / Educational Health care Plan and a formal recommendation naming St Anne's made by a multi-disciplinary team from the local Authority. However some pupils may be at St Anne's undergoing statutory assessment. Annual Reviews of the Educational Health care Plans play an important part in evaluating progress and analysing the appropriateness of a pupil's placement. Through the review process, there is always the possibility for pupils to transfer to another type of school e.g. in the case of a pupil who makes exceptional progress and appears ready to take on a more demanding level of work and a change of school environment

The Governing Body and staff of the school will evaluate the effectiveness of the school through a process of internal review and external assessment.

External monitoring and evaluation will be gained through:

- Ofsted Inspections
 - Local Authority advisors
- School improvement

Internal monitoring and evaluation will be gained by:

- Reviewing individual pupil achievement and progress e.g. Learning profiles and target achievement, evaluation of pupil progress as seen in Educational Health Care plans
- Review of SDP targets and Self Evaluation with Leadership Team and Governing Body
- Staff support through learning walks, lesson observation and evaluation
- School performance management system
- Staff supervision

Pupil progress is measured on an individual basis and the school has a robust whole-school tracking system to ensure pupils make or exceed expected levels of progress. Progress is defined as 'a measure of the rate of learning; it is the measure of differences in attainment at two points in time.

In their everyday teaching, staff have a commitment to collecting evidence and evaluating children's progress.

The sources of evidence will include pupils' work, photographic evidence of pupils' achievements, what children can do and say, progression against learning profiles, teacher's assessments, recording and reporting to parents.

Assessments are also made against the foundation stage profile and recorded in our whole school tracking system.

How will the setting/ school/ academy /college ensure ALL staff are aware and understand a Child or Young Person's SEND?

The school recognise the importance of developing staffs' knowledge, skills and understanding of special education and ensuring that pupils benefit from staffs' professional development.

It should be acknowledged that continuing professional development is not a replacement for staff investing their own time to investigate and reflect upon their practise in order to refine, alter or improve it.

The senior leadership team in conjunction with the Human Resources officer have a responsibility for staff development. The school has regular staff INSET and a formal system of staff appraisal.

8. How will the setting/ school/ academy /college let a parent/ carer know if they have any concerns about their Child or Young Person's learning?

We have a strong commitment to parent partnership, as incorporated in the overall schools' ethos. The Governing Body place special importance on finding out what parents expect from the school and aim to be represented at all school events to maintain regular contact with them. Parents are always welcome in school. Where appropriate home visits are made. Pupil planners, newsletters and school website and Twitter feed, are other channels of communication.

We also recognise the importance of trying to provide a support network for parents. This is achieved through the Parents Group, the Pastoral Care Co-ordinator, social gatherings, questionnaires and information evenings.

9. How is support allocated to Children and Young People?

Support is allocated on a needs basis. Staff who have experience or expertise with specific SEN need will be assigned to work with identified students, One to One students have a designated member of staff assigned to them. Class numbers are small to allow for all students to receive the support that they need to progress.

Most of our 16 year old students stay on at St Anne's for a further three years. Pupils can stay until the end of the academic year in which they are 19 years of age.

Time is devoted to transition plans and reviews in conjunction with other agencies.

Aspects of Careers Education are embedded throughout the curriculum from year 7 onwards. Parents can discuss their child's career aspirations at any time. As part of the Educational Health Care Plan at year 9 and subsequently at each review as part of the Transition these aspects are discussed in detail, with all possible options considered.
