Dear Parents,

Dates For Your Diary

We have now put together as many dates as we can for this school year. As you will see, it looks like a busy year already. Even if you only have children in one school, we thought you might like to see what's happening in the other schools.

The list is by no means exhaustive, so there will be other dates and events added for all three schools as the year goes by. Also, more details of these events will be forthcoming nearer the time, so their titles may change and we will be able to give you detailed times etc. However, we felt that by giving you dates for such things as Keeping In Touch Meetings and performances in advance, you could book time off work if you need to. Please make sure you put these dates in your diary/calendar now. People sometimes say that they didn't know about an event that we had actually published on this diary. We have also tried really hard to avoid clashes, so that you can get to events in more than one school if you need to.

This is also on the website, so you always have it there to refer to. Make sure you are following us on twitter too and have 'Marvellous Me' as those are usually the ways we send you messages and notifications.

Please note the training days shown. We have had two already this term, of the five we are legally required to have.

Yours sincerely
