Dear Parents, Guardians, Pupils and Governors:

Over the course of our previous school year we had several engagement sessions with all our stakeholders in regards to our school motto: “Nurture the Future”. Believe it or not that has been in place for over 8 years! As a school, during that time, we have steadily improved and made changes to how we operate, so much so that we posed the question: “Is it still a relevant motto for us? Are our values and vision still the same for our pupils and other stakeholders?”

Through discussion and revision of our mission statements we soon discovered how little people remembered about the various elements of what “Nurture the Future” stood for; and so we went about devising a set of statements that everyone, from pupil to Governor, could easily understand, remember and live by during their time at Bloomfield Primary School. We had many discussions as a staff; workshops with parents and Governors; and meetings with the Pupil Council to devise a simple Vision for our pupils. Above all we wanted the Mission of our School and the Values that we teach to be something that we could all stand over, and for them to be evident in our teaching, our interactions and even in the building itself.

So what are the changes we have made?

Our tag line will now change from “Nurture the Future” to “Believe: Progress: Succeed – Inspiring Our Children for Life”

Our over-arching Mission Statement is:

At Bloomfield Primary School we will work in partnership with you, their parents, to challenge and inspire our pupils. We are dedicated to ensuring each child has a voice in their learning and that they are prepared for and successful in their individual futures. It is our mission to make sure that each child feels:

Here are our 4 friends who will be daily reminders to our pupils of what our 4 key values are:

If you haven't spotted it yet - I hope that our intentionality with the 4 initials not only reassures you that each and every child in Bloomfield Primary School is very important to us; but it helps you to remember more easily the Vision we have and the Values we want to share with your child as they progress through their time with us.
