We have been asked by the Schools Travel Officer to remind you that there is a new School Crossing Patrol on Cashes Green Road near the primary school. Please approach the area with caution at the appropriate times and slow down or be prepared to stop if the patrol sign is up (it's the law). Thank you for your consideration.

A-Z of Mindfulness

G is for Gardening and Growing

The age old process of growing vegetables and flowers is very satisfying. The manual labour keeps the mind focused on the present – and also frees it to be creative and work out problems. The magic of planting seeds and nurturing them as they sprout and grow gives a huge sense of achievement. After all the hard work there can be no greater feeling of wellbeing than sitting beside your own productive veg plot or cottage garden. We would like to feature tips A-Z each week in the Foxmoor Flyer and would love your suggestions. Please send your ideas to Mrs Montague. Next issue will be 'H is for...' It's over to you.

Museum in the Park

The Museum in the Park will be holding free events and workshops for children over the next three weekends. This weekend (23rd & 24th 11am-4pm) join in with 'The Wordsmith's Studio) with free creative drop-in – activities for all ages. On Sunday 1st July (11am-4pm) visit the Summer Garden Party to celebrate National Democracy Week. Again there will be free activities including bunting, rosette and banner making. And over the following weekend (7th & 8th July 11am-4pm), as part of the Festival of Nature, the Museum will be part of the Children's Festival. Take along your library ticket to use at the Pop-up Library and experience more crafts, games and free train rides in Stratford Park. Other chargeable workshops will also take place, please visit www.museuminthepark.org.uk for full details.
