1. Raffle

The prizes were discussed and the top three prizes decided. 1) G Ilve tickets to The Nutcracker 2) Alice Holt Discovery Pass 3) Silent Pool Gin Distillery Tour. Claire Noel will be ordering the tickets on Thursday.

There are two prizes, kindly donated by Lorraine Tull, of an Amazon Echo and a BTCC Touring Jacket. It was agreed that these high value prizes could raise more money if we used them for 'Lucky Squares'. Lisa Collyer will be making a chart with 100 squares. Each can be bought for £1 per square. The money from 'Lucky Squares' is to be split between FROTH and the fund for the lunch trollies.

2. Sponsorship

As yet we have no sponsor for the fair. Steph has approached several estate agents, resulting in definite sponsorship for our summer fair from Purple Bricks. Steph has also approached the Whitehill & Bordon Regeneration scheme, Cala Homes & Athlete Movement Gym. Lisa recommended that we approach David Wilson Homes, Kebbel Home, Taylor Wimpey & Barratt Homes. Steph to email them.

Lisa Collyer volunteered to look for some signage that FROTH itself could put around the locality to advertise the fair.

3. Stallholders

We have 6 stallholders all paid up. We have another 9 who have requested stalls but haven't yet returned their form & payment. Steph will chase stallholders just before the deadline of the 21st November.

Wednesday, 7 November 2018

Lisa agreed to approach Madhuban to see if they'd like to sell their sauces at the fair.

4. Class contributions

RW confirmed that all year groups are busy making their produce to sell at the fair. It was agreed that the class captains were to take responsibility of the 'Guess How Many Sweets in the Jar'.

5. Do we need a Secret Santa stall?

It was decided that we use all the accumulated donations and prizes that are in the FROTH cupboard. We will be offering the wrapping service again. Julia Greenslade has kindly offered to man the stall this year.

6. What to ask children to bring in on the mufti days?

It was decided to keep the mufti requests as already advertised, but that we emphasise a request for screw-topped bottles of wine to allow there to be a new stall, 'Water or Wine' (see below).

7. Water or wine stall

This requires people to choose a wrapped bottle and chance their luck that it could either be water or wine. We agreed to all save our empty screw-topped bottles and that Lisa would ask help from the Madhubhan Restaurant to use their bottles too.

8. What games are we having?

Snowball Stocks

Splat the Rat

Lucky Carrot

Pick a Lolly

Knock Santa off the Chimney

9. Entrance charge

It was agreed that the entrance fee for a family would now be £2. It was thought that the previous price of £1 has not changed for many years and that the revised price will allow FROTH to be able to provide more attractions for the summer fair.

10. Refreshments

Dominos have agreed to supply personal pizzas again for £2 each, with 50p from each going to FROTH.

11. Layout of activities

Much the same as last year, with the Face Painting & Glitter Tattoos moving to the Grotto room to allow children to have their face painted while they wait to see Father Christmas.

12. Helpers

Lisa Bunn offered to man the Cake Stall.

Becky, Kerry & Holly agreed to be elves again.

Julia Greenslade has offered to man the Secret Santa stall.

It was agreed that EK post on Facebook for helpers.

13. Any Other Business

- Christmas Tree Seller - EK had approached Luffs Farm to see if they would like to provide Christmas trees and wreaths. They were initially keen but they are too busy this year to be able to attend. Lisa Collyer volunteered to ask one of her contacts if they might be able to supply trees and wreaths.
- RW agreed to ask Mrs Hoe if the choir could sing at the fair.
- We discussed a couple of new events for 2019/20. One being a Race Night with curry provided. The other might be a gin tasting evening. Both ideas are still in initial discussion phase and are not yet confirmed.
