

As Historians we might:

Research your family. Did any of your ancestors get involved in WW1 or 2? What did they do? Create a PowerPoint or a poster about their lives during this time.

Investigate an area which interests you, such as animals at war, women at work or what people did for leisure and entertainment. Share your discoveries with us.

As Athletes we might:

Learn a dance of the times.

Find out about football or other sports during WW1

Due in by: 5th December 2018

As Designers we might:

Make a model of a trench

Make a model of a shop or house from 100 years ago

As Geographers we might:

Find out about which countries are in the Commonwealth. Show on a map which countries were involved in WW1.

As Scientists we might:

Research the work of Doctors and Nurses during WW1. How did they treat injuries and illnesses in hospital camps?

Choose something from this list or be creative with your own ideas about WW1.

As Readers we might:

Read about a significant individual from wartime. Research what they did and produce a fact-file or poster about their contribution to the war effort.

As Musicians we might:

Learn and perform a song from 100 years ago.

As Mathematicians we might:

Make a timeline of significant events during WW1.

Find out the price of groceries at this time.

As Artists we might:

Draw a picture of what people wore 100 years ago.

As ICT technicians we might:

Create a simulation of life in the trenches.

As Writers we might:

Write a diary entry of a soldier during WW1.

Write a letter to a soldier in the trenches.

Create an emblem for peace or remembrance