The Jungle Book-retelling

It was 7:00 when the tired father wolf woke up. Father wolf got up and stretched eagerly in the quietness of Seeonee hills. Soon enough his cubs were squealing and tumbling around.

Mother wolf woke up-not to quite though-after a good night's sleep. After a while they were accompanied by a jackal. The jackal blessed the wolf absentminded babies(cubs) and ran like nothing happened. "it's time for me to go hunting again" announced farther wolf." Why do I have to go hunting?" he asked belligerently.

Father wolf crept through the forest- which many animals were hunting in- and he saw his friend. His friend told him that Sheer Khan is hunting human! Father wolf was ascertain. He ran home- with some food- to tell his family the news.

Just as father wolf was explaining the news he saw something move. He leaped up in the air and stopped. When he noticed it was a man cub." Bring it here!" commanded mother. All of the wolf cubs gathered around it. Shere Khan, who is a man-eater, will be after the man cub. We have to keep him safe. It was agreeable to keep him. So that is what happened. They raised him like one of their own. He learns the ways of the jungle. His name is Mogli.
