

This Week

Year 1 completed their first piece of Big Writing! They wrote their very own Fireman Sam (original from the 90s not today's new animated version) stories from a story map they had planned earlier on in the week. They were much more confident writing from their maps after practicing last week with Naughty Bus.

In maths Year 1 have been proving and explaining their answers. Mrs Dunk has given them statements such as:

I have 2 numbers in my head. Added together they make 10. What could they be? Give me 2 numbers they cannot be.

I have 2 numbers in my head. If I take the smaller number away from the bigger number I have 2. What numbers could it be? Give me 2 numbers it cannot be.

which the children have then had to go off and prove using manipulatives from the classroom. They had great fun telling me which numbers they could not be.

FYI

- Costumes in for Wednesday 5th December please. Our dress rehearsal to the school is Friday 7th.
- Monday 10th and Tuesday 11th are our performances a letter is coming out about arrangements
- Friday 7th December is non-uniform day-Bring a Bottle for PTA

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

Full stops

These wonderful dots have an important job. They signal the end of a piece of information and must go at the end of every sentence. When your child is writing at home do please pick up on this. We are trying to prevent any bad habits being formed.

Mrs Dunk's message

Christmas is feeling ever closer! I have decided we will be putting up the Year 1 Christmas tree next week so we can display all of the amazing home made decorations. Keep them coming in!

There are so many things happening this time of year do please keep checking the school list of dates, mine and Mrs. Clements' newsletter so that you don't miss anything.

