Dear Parents/Carers

Some of you may have noticed that the press have been reporting about the social media challenge called MOMO.

It has come to our attention that some pupils in our school are aware of this challenge. However, there have been no reported incidents of children being targeted at our school and there is no cause for concern. We urge that you continue discussions with your child about how to keep safe online and continue to remain vigilant about their online activity.

Please read the fact sheet attached for more information and we recommend that you do this before discussing with children. Our teachers will remind pupils about online safety and will have age appropriate conversations about the MOMO challenge. Please note they will not share the image with children.

If you have any further concerns, or wish to make an online safety referral, please contact our Online Safety Lead Mr Cleaver.

Kind regards

K. Anslow
