What's Been Happening in Willow Room
Friday 8th March

Over the past week, the children in Willow Room have shown a keen interest in a variety of different topics and fascinations.

Handa’s Surprise...
This week in the book area, our focus has been ‘Handa’s surprise’. The children have been infatuated with learning all about the animals in Handa’s community and which fruits they chose to take from her basket. They have been creating their own drawings of the story and painted with some of the fruits too.

Staghills café...
This week, the children in our room have been extremely engrossed in providing their own drinks service again in the outdoors; hot chocolate, vimto and chocolate milkshake were amongst the preferences. They have used lots of different medium to mix the assortment together including; mud, sand, bark and powder paint and had lots of fun selling them to their customers!

World book day...
We have loved learning all about the children’s favourite stories this week and today we celebrated by embedding some of the favourable stories into our provision for children to explore in different ways. The children; had a tea party in the home corner for ‘The tiger who came to tea’ and also assembled tigers in the playdough, they fished for some sea creatures in the water to resemble, ‘The snail and the whale’ and in the small world they explored props supporting the tale of ‘Harry and the bucketful of dinosaurs’.

Dates to remember...
