This Week

Inkpen and Rosen have been learning about the properties of solid shapes. They also made their own obstacle courses and wrote rules and signs. Please remember to click on the blog and follow so you receive email updates about what is happening.

Sharratt and Donaldson have been looking at the five senses in their Science work. They went on a trip around the school, inside and out, to see what they could hear and see.

Potter and Ahlberg have been working on their mini beast dances in PE. In Science they have been learning about the habitats of mini beasts.

Murphy and Dahl have been writing a new adventure for Jason and the Argonauts and have made Greek pots from clay.

Morpurgo and Kinney have had a great time carrying out science experiments using catapults. They have learnt about levers and how to carry out fair tests.

Herge and Walliams have had a gruesome week learning all about Ancient Egyptian mummification! In Maths they carried out some end of unit reviews and did very well. They have just started learning about fractions.

Shakespeare and Rowling have been writing non-chronological reports about the Titanic.

Have a great weekend.

The Hive Out of School Club

This week we have learnt how to organise tournaments for our table tennis matches. Our champions of the week are Leo and Mckenzi.

Our mummification experiment finally came to an end after 4 weeks. We discovered that sugar and salt worked wonderfully as preservatives.

We made aeroplanes and attempted to measure if small or large planes would fly better. We tested a variety of oils to see which made the best play-dough and enjoyed blow painting and exploring symmetry in our art work. We have also made book marks for our favourite story characters to celebrate World Book Day.

We hope you all had a brilliant World Book Day! Mr May came as Gandalf the Grey, Miss Davies and Miss Inglis came as Mary Poppins, Miss Taylor Wood was the Mad Hatter and Mr Coombe started the day as Wally but we haven't been able to find him since!

There were so many wonderful costumes it was difficult to decide which was our favourite. We all had a fantastic day carrying out work based on 'Where the Wild Things Are.'

We hope you all enjoyed the Pancake Day lunch last Tuesday because we thought it was delicious.

Talking of food make sure you come to the Red Nose day lunch because it is going to be amazing as well.

Have a great weekend.

Abigail, Ana, Annelise, Katie, Laura and Olivia.

The Barrier

As you are aware, the barrier on the vehicular access to the school is now down permanently and you will need to contact the school if you wish to enter the site.

With the site being a joint one with the Children's Centre we have to take in to account the safety and needs of all users of the site. A situation has arisen this week at the Children's Centre that has resulted in the need for the barrier to be down on a permanent basis for the foreseeable future.

We are sorry if this causes you some additional inconvenience but it cannot be helped. We will keep the use of the barrier under review in conjunction with the Children's Centre.

If you have a blue badge or other mitigating circumstances please get in touch so we can arrange for you to gain access. Otherwise please use the pedestrian access near the Foundation Stage.

Donaldson's Class Assembly

I loved it! The kids looked like they were having a lot of fun – I was thoroughly entertained!

Fantastically well put together.

Amazing! All the children were so enthusiastic and passionate.

That was amazing – I really enjoyed it. Well done Team Donaldson.

Children sat wonderfully for all the children to come in. Fantastic work we loved it. Well done Donaldson.

What a wonderful way to show what the children have learned.

I would like Mr May to know...
