- Helping with the cost of living and employability
- Encouraging physical health and activity
- Supporting mental health and wellbeing

The following grant sizes are available:

 - Studies exploring the need for renovation or construction of a community building
 - Disability access reviews
 - Energy usage reduction audits
- Up to £10,000 is available for other projects aligned with the themes of the fund. - Up to £20,000 is available for projects involving capital works (significant construction, alteration or repair to a building or land owned by the organisation making an application) aligned with the themes of the fund. Please note - if landowner or local authority planning permissions are required to complete the project, these must already be approved before applying for funding. Organisations will also be required to provide the details of at least 3 quotes from different contractors supplying materials or labour

- Requests to part-fund projects where the funding shortfall has not already been covered by the applicant - the fund cannot offer funding for projects that will need future fundraising or additional grant applications to be carried out

 - provision of social and health care by local authorities
 - delivering the curriculum or other regular activity in schools
 - capital works/repairs to statutory buildings

Frequently Asked Questions

What are capital works?

For the purposes of this fund, capital works involve significant construction, alteration, or maintenance intended to create or improve a building or land over which your organisation has ownership or a lease. Organisations applying for funding for capital works must provide the details of at least 3 quotes from different contractors supplying materials or labour. If landowner or local authority planning permissions are required to complete the project, these must already be approved before starting an application to the Local Community Fund.

What are statutory responsibilities?

For the purposes of this fund, statutory responsibilities include services delivered by government or a local authority - essential health and social care, emergency services, and education. It also includes the maintenance of public parks, roads and parking facilities, as well as repairs or improvements to buildings owned or operated by statutory organisations.

What grant sizes are available?

The Local Community Fund offers three grant sizes in the region. Organisations may apply to the fund once each year.

- Up to £5,000 is available for feasibility studies, including but not limited to: needs analysis for the renovation/new construction of a community building, disability access reviews, energy usage reduction audits
- Up to £20,000 is available for projects involving capital works (new construction, significant repair or alteration to indoor or outdoor facilities involving contractors) where your application has already sourced quotes from suppliers and secured any necessary planning permission
- Up to £10,000 is available for all other projects meeting the themes of the fund

Does the Local Community Fund part-fund larger projects?

The fund particularly encourages applications for projects that can be fully funded by the grant sizes National Grid offers. They will also consider requests to part-fund projects with a total budget equalling or under £10,000 for feasibility studies, £40,000 for capital works, or £20,000 for all other projects. Applicants will be asked to describe how additional funding separate to their application to the Local Community Fund would be spent, and to prove any funding shortfall has been covered.

What is a funding shortfall?

A funding shortfall is the difference between a part-funding request you make to the Local Community Fund and the total project cost of your larger project. For example - if your organisation applies for £10,000 from the fund and your total project cost is £15,000, the shortfall would be £5,000. Applicants must demonstrate that any shortfall has already been covered through their free cash reserves or other successful grant applications before beginning their Community Fund application.

What are core costs?

For the purposes of this fund, core costs include running costs such as rent, utilities, governance costs, insurance, and non-project staff costs such as finance teams, fundraising and HR. The fund will not accept applications which focus on covering the essential costs for regular service delivery but will accept requests amounting to 20% of a project's budget on overheads which are pro-rated and clearly related to project delivery.

Will the fund accept applications to continue/expand existing projects?

The fund will consider these requests if they are expansions/extensions lasting no longer than 12 months of existing or past projects that are not core service delivery/general organisation running costs. Applicants must outline the impact of the initial project and how it was previously funded.

Can organisations receive funding more than once?

Organisations can apply to the Local Community Fund once per financial year (April-March). Successful applicants will need to complete their funded project, use or return all funding, and complete a project monitoring report. If these criteria are met and the project is still based in a location eligible for the fund, organisations may apply again.

National Grid cannot guarantee that repeat applications will be funded regardless of previous project outputs, monitoring report quality, or recommendations from feasibility studies.

How can I find out if my project delivery location makes my organisation eligible to apply?

Organisations based in England and Wales can make an application to the fund provided that their project will be delivered in an area where significant National Grid construction work is taking place (you can check location eligibility here).

Can we apply for a project that lasts more than a year?

National Grid expects all awarded funding to be used within 12 months and projects should deliver their intended outcome within these dates. If unexpected delays occur your organisation will be able to make a request for a project extension by contacting the fund's support team.

What is the application process?

Applicants can assess their location-based eligibility and start their application via Localgiving's website. Organisations must complete a due diligence process and submit an application form to be considered for funding. Complete applications are assessed every three months and scored against evaluation criteria by a National Grid funding panel.

When will I find out about the outcome of my application?

You will be notified of the outcome once a decision has been made following a panel. If you are successful, we will give you further information and ask you to provide your bank details.

Grants are normally paid directly into your organisation's bank account. If you are unsuccessful, we will let you know.

When do I need to return monitoring?

At the end of the 12-month funding period or once you have completed your project, you will be required to complete our monitoring form. This will include information about the delivery and the success of your project. We may ask for less in-depth information from you as your project progresses to capture any short-term outcomes you have identified in your application.

We will also ask you to kindly supply a quote and a relevant photograph from your project so that the grant organisers can promote your organisation and the impact of the funded work.

Our charity covers several of National Grid's construction regions. Can we apply multiple times?

No - we are only able to accept an application from each unique organisation once per financial year. You should ensure that your application focuses on a single construction region.
