

Brian Audition Sides

Written by

Matthew Siu

mms.hightail@gmail.com

INT. THEATRE- DAY

DAVIDSON (O.S.)
Alright everyone. Before you leave, take one of these and pass it down.

Davidson takes a small stack of papers and hands them to the closest student. They pass it down.

DAVIDSON
Audition's in a week, it'll be a wonderful experience for you. There's no harm in trying.

BRIAN, tall, tidy hair, in one of the aforementioned over dramatic coats, slings his satchel over his shoulder.

BRIAN
I won't be in class next week.

He pauses. Clapping his hands together and forming a cheeky smile, drawing out the silence. All attention is on him.

BRIAN (cont'd)
I got a part. It's a television job, just for a few episodes. Nothing big.

A humble brag. Shit.

DAVIDSON
Oh how wonderful, Brian.

She starts clapping her hands, instructing for the others to join in. Jimmy lets out a sigh of surrender and claps. He gets off stage.