

INT. CHARLIE'S APARTMENT - NIGHT

POV from inside the window looks at Charlie taking out her keys and hesitating before putting the key in the door.

The POV moves away from the dusty window and walks to the door. We see the apartment is messy, the TV tray is covered with trash. Unfinished pizza, dead plants. A photo of Charlie and Amy stands by the TV. Charlie opens the door, walks past the mess and the GIRL, a girl of an apparently similar age to Charlie with a dead, skinny, pale face and ragged, dirty clothes stands in front of Charlie.

GIRL

(smile)

Home at last.

INT. BEDROOM - NIGHT

Dirty clothes on the floor, books scattered randomly on the desk. The sound of kids laughing in the distance comes from outside. The Girl looks through the window and hums the sad tune of children's song, sits by the window and tears up her dead skin on her fingers. Under the dim desk lamp, Charlie opens one of the notebooks from the bookcase. As she flips through the pages we see it's a diary. Once she reaches a blank page and writes down the date, flash back starts.