KONTAKT DER KONTINENTEN

WORLDLY HOSPITALITY

Welcome to Conference Hotel 'Kontakt der Kontinenten', which means as much as 'the point of contact for all continents'. We often are this point of contact for our guests from across the globe. It is our pleasure to offer you this brochure to give you an impression of the many things we have to offer to you and your guests.

Our conference hotel consists of two historic buildings: the former mission house Sint Jan and the former monastery the Cenakel. With three conference halls and twenty-five meeting rooms, these remarkable buildings can host conferences for up to 220 attendants and events for up to 600 guests. Furthermore, our venue features 131 comfortable hotel rooms and a worldly cuisine in our restaurant 'Proeflokaal De Wereld' (Tasting Room The World).

Many guests from a great variety of countries whom we have welcomed have shared their appreciation of our central location in the Netherlands, the variety and flexibility of our meeting rooms and conference halls and the personal attention and approach of our staff members. Also quite remarkable is the outdoor terrain of our conference hotel, which features beanbags, picnic tables, hammocks and of course a forest that forms a wonderful scenery for hosting a great variety of activities.

We warmly invite you to step into our world: that of a perfectly situated conference hotel where fresh coffee awaits you and where our guests enjoy a worldly form of hospitality. It is a place where each area offers a different experience and sensation, as do the worldly dishes and refreshments that one may enjoy during their stay. In these historic buildings, in these majestic gardens and in the diversity of halls, everyone experiences the space they need to be inspired and simply enjoy what life has to offer.

Our staff members at our reservations department welcome your questions and will gladly share their expertise while helping you to plan all details for your inspiring event or meeting. They are available by phone at +31 346 332 537 or reservations@kontaktderkontinenten.nl

TABLE OF CONTENTS

A black and white photograph of the interior of a Gothic church. The view is from the back of the sanctuary looking down a central aisle towards the altar. The aisle is flanked by rows of wooden pews with decorative finials. At the far end, a large, ornate cross stands on a raised platform. Above the cross is a circular stained-glass window. On either side of the altar area, there are statues of figures, possibly saints or the Virgin Mary, set within niches. The architecture features high, pointed arches and a vaulted ceiling with exposed wooden beams. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the textures of the stone and wood.

HISTORY

CONFERENTIEHOTEL

KONTAKT DER KONTINENTEN

In 1961 a new conference venue emerged in the former mission house Sint Jan, which had been a minor seminary for the SVD mission congregation since 1924. At this Societas Verbi Divini (Society of the Divine Word), boys attended their secondary boarding school formation and education to become priest-missionaries, after which many of them were sent to other continents to do missionary work. The crest of the SVD still remains at the Africa coffee corner.

The entire building and its surrounding terrain were purchased by the Kontakt der Kontinenten Foundation in 1989. Soon after the completion of multiple renovations and expansions, a new chapter appeared on the horizon. The adjacent Cenakel monastery, inhabited by the Holy Spirit Adoration Sisters, was vacated. These nuns, whose numbers had decreased, could no longer care for the large building and continued their tradition elsewhere. In the year 2000, Kontakt der Kontinenten opened the gates of the Cenakel for its guests. Today, our conference hotel consists of these two highly unique buildings.

The Sint Jan mission house

A historic building first constructed in 1926. The chapel, designed by architect A.J. Kropholler, was added in 1933. The stairwell beautifully depicts the historic evolution of the building with a stained glass window. The chapel also features many stained glass windows, while the building itself benefits from various art objects crafted by Dutch artists such as Hans Landsaat, Henri Plaat, Theo Kuyper and Theo van der Hoeven.

The Cenakel monastery

This municipal monument dates from 1939 and was designed by architect Joseph Franssen. Its Cecilia chapel pays homage to the days of yore with its stunning murals painted by Jean Collette. The entire building is filled with an exposition by Jan van der Pol (Aalsmeer, 1949). This work (with its intentionally odd name 'I'UOEYA BGF X ZN'QD VCSP KWTRL HM') consists of 195 linocuts that join to become one visual totality, one independent art object, based on the Horapollo's Hieroglyphica.

A SUSTAINABLE WELCOME

CONFERENTIEHOTEL KONTAKT DER KONTINENTEN

A SUSTAINABLE WELCOME

Corporate Social Responsibility

The objective of the Kontakt der Kontinenten is to enthuse people about global issues, to create awareness about being world citizens and to encourage them to contribute to a more sustainable and just society. Everyone has an interest in promoting sustainability: our staff members, guests, customers and suppliers, but mostly the generations who come after us and who rely on our earth to live from.

We are of course aware that as a conference hotel, we have similarities with industries who leave a weighty environmental impact. By taking our environment into consideration in all our actions, and by actively limiting our footprint, we take our responsibility. Read more to learn how we substantiate this vision.

Green Key Gold

Our Green Key Gold certificate for sustainability testifies to our active contributions in this respect. Our focus in this context extends well beyond the environment, energy consumption and carbon emissions and approaches our social responsibility in a much wider context.

Training & Advice

Our Training & Advice business unit hosts courses, training sessions and conferences to educate about world citizenship.

Platform

To continue to pay tribute to the history of societal objectives of our venue, we offer our platform to organisations with the purpose of benefiting a sustainable and just society. Inform about what possibilities we can offer your initiative by submitting a description to training@kontaktderkontinenten.nl.

Sustainable procurement

We endeavour towards a sustainable procurement policy that stimulates our suppliers to innovate and develop sustainable products, methods and solutions.

CSR

WATER VOOR
WATER

Water for water

For each bottle of cooled and purified tap water we serve, we contribute financially to the FairWater Foundation.

Why this charity?

To the delight of local residents, many African villages were equipped with a water pump in the past decades. Although this was a success at first, many of these pumps proved to be of insufficient quality, requiring regular repairs until they finally broke down beyond repair.

How do we help?

The FairWater Foundation has a different approach, one that has proven to be successful. Rather than sending funds or consultants, FairWater's approach is more pragmatic: be practical and send pumps that are built to last. BluePumps are made in the Netherlands.

Smart solutions

Hooray, a pump that works, now just to find something to carry the water in. In our western world, there's plenty of water bottles to go around. People carry them around in trains, at work or school and many other places. Another pragmatic FairWater solution soon followed. Together with JointhePipe they founded the BlueBottle project and filled the pipes of the pump with loads of water bottles. That delivers them right to where they are needed, without extra shipment fees.

Will you join us?

We invite you to make a small financial donation for the unlimited consumption of cooled and purified tap water while staying in our conference hotel. It's water for water, and with your help we can achieve even more.

Roetz-bike | Not just any bike

Many guests want to rent a bicycle while staying at our venue, and we collaborate with Roetz-Bikes to accommodate them. This bicycle brand's mission is to reduce waste in and after its production process. Many reasons make this a sustainable bicycle.

CONFERENTIEHOTEL KONTAKT DER KONTINENTEN

Recycling parts

The Netherlands is well-known for being a country of cyclists. Annual bicycle sales exceed one million, which also means that an almost equal number reaches the end of its lifecycle. Recycling as many parts as we possibly can reduces the amount of waste.

Natural materials

Not all parts of the Roetz Bike can be retrieved from recycling. For these parts, ecologically responsible materials are used at every opportunity, which take the origin and long-term effects on both people and the environment into account. Did we mention that they look great too?

Social labour

Collaborating with social enterprises to manufacture these bicycles is important for all Roetz-Bikes. It creates employment opportunities and reduces transport requirements and the carbon footprint associated with it.

Available for rent

Discover our surroundings on a Roetz-Bike by renting it for only € 5 for half a day or € 8.5 for an entire day.

The Biscuit Factory ('De Koekfabriek')

All biscuits served at our venue are not only tasty but also have a wonderful social value! These delicious biscuits are baked by the staff members of the Biscuit Factory (or actually its rather unpronounceable Dutch name 'De Koekfabriek'). The team working at this factory consists of special bakers for whom it may be hard to find a regular job elsewhere. By working in the bakery of The Biscuit Factory, these bakers have a fulfilling role within our society and are able to develop themselves.

The handmade biscuits are purchased by means of a Biscuit Subscription. With these steady sales volumes, The Biscuit Factory is able to offer their bakers a long-term workplace. Our monthly purchase alone is enough to fund the jobs of 25 bakers for a full day per month. Also, there's five different flavours to choose from!

TEAM BUILDING

CONFERENTIEHOTEL

KONTAKT DER KONTINENTEN

For many gatherings and events, teambuilding activities are indispensable to anchor the experience and strengthen collaborations and mutual understanding between participants. After all, an expertly functioning team is often the result of a process in which its members are on the same page. Sharing experiences, listening to one another, helping each other and expressing appreciation for personal and professional skills help to forge connections between people.

Consequently, these activities are more than just aimed at further improving the fun factor of the day itself. Successfully performing these activities requires more, and our staff members know exactly how to do that with a large variety of teambuilding activities.

At our Conference Hotel, we possess all traits required to host excellent teambuilding activities. Indoor or outdoor, with various durations, aimed at stimulating the mind, body or both, and focusing on effort or relaxation during a break from your meeting, for instance. Choose from a diverse offering, or have our staff members advise you on our options.
