THE COMMONS COLLECTIVE

A collection of historic buildings dotted on St Kilda Road stand beautiful and unassuming, passers-by oblivious to the epic celebrations happening within the many spaces that is, The Commons Collective – until now.

The Commons Collective is a complimentary contradiction; historic and chic, frivolous and formal – full of distinctive character and able to transform into whatever event you desire – hence it is not easily forgotten by those who have experienced its magic.

With history dating back to the 1890s, refurbished in the 1920s and more recently in 2017, the original Art Deco decor has been flawlessly preserved, capturing the vibe of a refined nostalgia.

The heritage listed stage and space of Ormond Hall is popular for large events of all types including spectacular shows, corporate award nights, extravagant weddings and more.

Only a stone's throw from Melbourne's CBD and walking distance from Albert Park; The Commons Collective boasts a central location sitting within the St Kilda Road Business District.

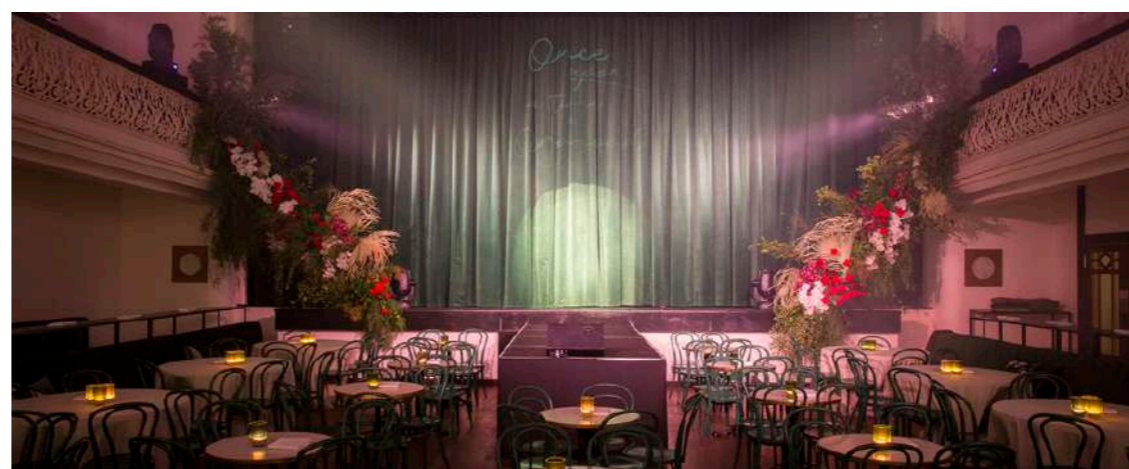

Adept at keeping all types of celebrations a world away within its central location – The Commons Collective is an experience unto itself, awaiting your unique touch to personalise the charm that is, The Commons Collective.

ORMOND HALL, EASTERN BAR & EASTERN BAR COURTYARD

Built in 1891, Ormond Hall is a heritage listed dance hall and theatre with a warm and inviting aesthetic. Originally refurbished in the 1920s, the Art Deco period finishes from this era have been retained, creating a neutral yet nostalgic space with polished timber floors, lead glass windows, ornate iron balustrades, faceted milk glass pendants and richochre stage curtains.

Ormond Hall is centrally located on St Kilda Road, within walking distance to several trams to and from the CBD. This premium and charming environment provides the perfect backdrop for a myriad of events from weddings to special birthday celebrations and corporate entertaining.

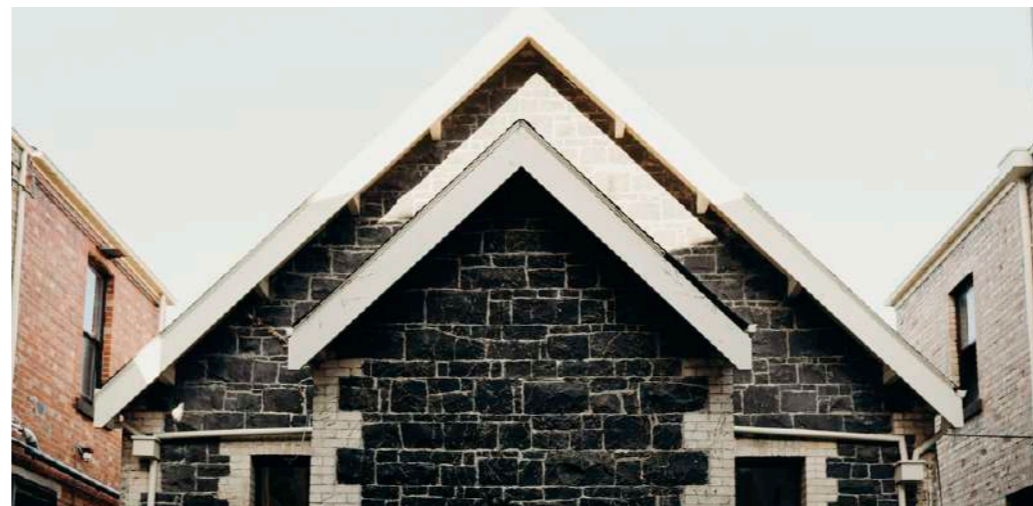

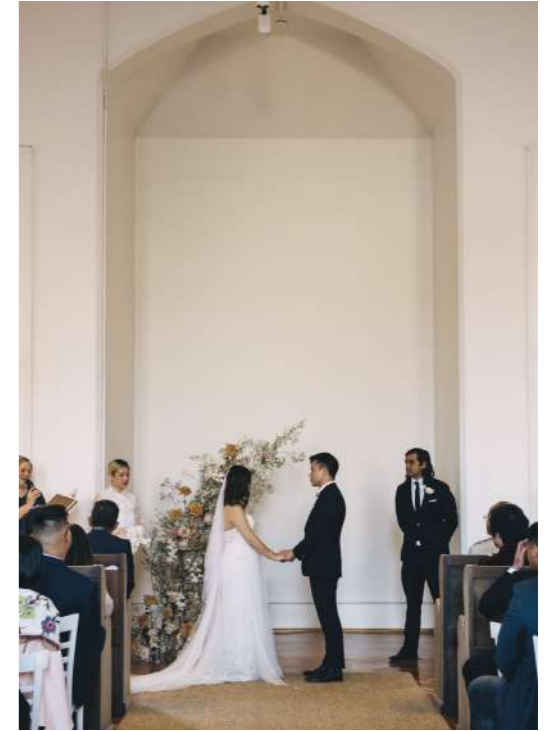

THE CHAPEL

Across the garden and around the corner, on the edge of Melbourne, sits the most graceful intimate event space, The Chapel.

High ceilings, long windows, historic charm and exposed beams, whether you're after romantic touches, a minimalist chic look or modern sophisticated with natural character, it is all possible at The Chapel. The historic walls ensure sound carries beautifully, and the intimate setting makes everyone feel involved.

A refined space with the unique ability to turn historic charm into modern-day trend.

BAR MOUBRAY

Dark, sultry and oh-so-sexy, Bar Moubray is a bit of a smooth talker - it will have your full attention from the moment you arrive.

Incredibly alluring, Bar Moubray has the mystic and character typical of the prohibition era of the 1920s, with a on-trend element that makes it exemplary to the modern day.

Located within our heritage-listed bluestone building, the bar is wrapped in rich oak – panelled walls with ornate ceilings, these character finishes add distinctive refine nostalgia to the space.

THE CONSERVATORY

The Conservatory is located within the grounds, amongst leafy gardens of heritage listed trees and historic bluestone buildings. The architecturally designed Conservatory with a retractable roof, embraces the character and ambience of the heritage setting, and is a great location for cocktail parties and dinner events. The Conservatory can be layered with styling to suit any event or indulge its graceful, classic look as it is.

ROSÉ GARDEN

A series of raised garden beds, eclectic pots and trailing greenery will zone the areas into defined outdoor rooms, and guests will quickly develop a 'favourite spot' in the garden.

BEER GARDEN

The only place people will want to be on a balmy evening, The Beer Garden is the sure-fire win for groups of people wanting a cold beer after work.

The casual setting calls for guests who want a beer and a burger, or perhaps some fries and tomato sauce.

You know your guests will end up staying as the sun goes down and the overhead festoon lights flicker in the evening breeze.
