PRIVATE DINING

The private dining spaces at The Wolseley, The Delaunay Brasserie Zédel and The Beaumont are as distinctive as the restaurants and hotel themselves. They are ideal for parties larger than the restaurants can accommodate and special occasions requiring more discretion and privacy.

A dedicated event organiser is always on hand to coordinate every aspect of your event.

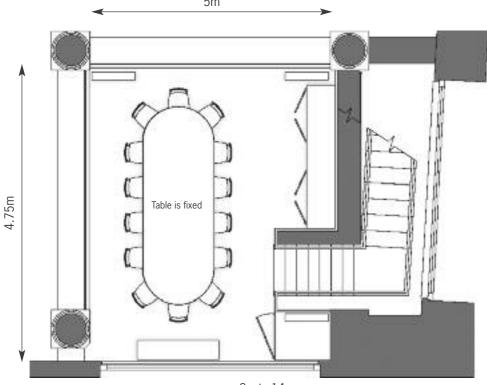

The Private Dining Room at The Wolseley has been described as "one of the most beautiful in London." Commanding a view across the entire Wolseley dining room, it is nevertheless unobtrusively hidden away, with its own dedicated staircase.

With large, arched windows on all four sides, it also overlooks The Ritz and Piccadilly.

Flooded with natural light during the day, it is seductively lit at night by candles and the glow of the restaurant's chandeliers.

The Wolseley's Private Dining Room seats up to 14 guests and is available to book for breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner.

Located on a raised level with views of the restaurant,
The Delaunay's two Private Dining Rooms benefit from ample natural light during the day yet are subtly shielded from the outside world. Clad in beautiful wood panelling and featuring original paintings from the restaurant's period collection, the hallmark of these rooms is flexibility.

Equipped for business, with a plasma screen available in the Kean Room, the rooms lend themselves equally well to celebratory occasions, and can accommodate small, medium and larger parties.

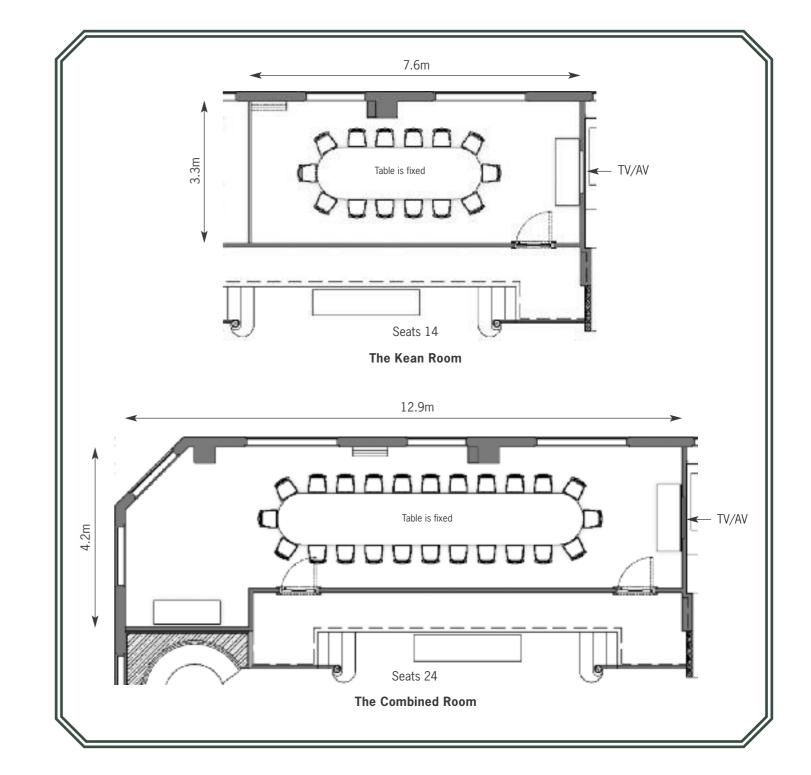

The Corner Room and the Kean Room at The Delaunay seat up to 8 and 14 guests respectively and are available to book for breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner. The two rooms can also be opened up to accommodate a single table of 24 guests.

EDEL

Brasserie Zédel occupies what has been described as "probably the best and most authentic series of 1930s interiors in this country."

Painstakingly restored, the Bar Américain and The Crazy Coqs, with their original Art Deco interiors by revered stage and interior designer Oliver Percy Bernard, are available for private hire.

Immaculately restored with striped walnut cladding, soaring columns with period lighting, vintage aeroplane wallpaper and gently worn leather furnishings, Bar Américain's original 1930s decor provides a theatrical and atmospheric setting for any special event.

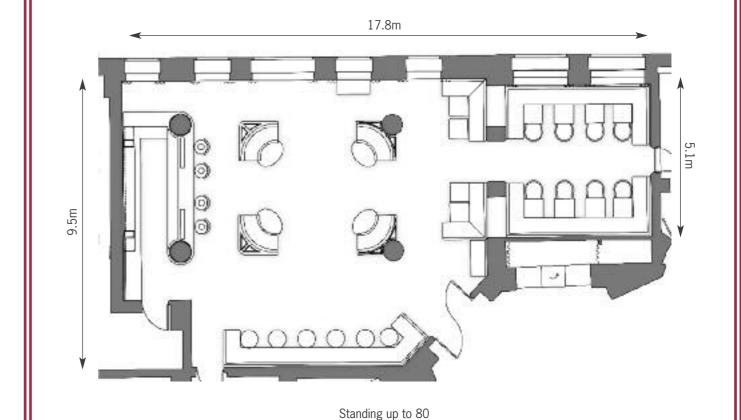

Bar Américain is available for private hire during the day, by special arrangement, for up to 80 people for a standing event.

With its outstanding 1930s Art Deco interior by Oliver Percy Bernard, The Crazy Coqs has been called "London's most exquisite cabaret venue" and is undoubtedly a dramatic space for any private event.

The Crazy Coqs is available for hire during the day by special arrangement. Its small stage and flexible seating make it particularly suited to presentations, fashion and music events and receptions for up to 100 people and seated lunches for up to 40 people.

The BEAUMONT

The Lotos Room is approached down a sweeping, curved staircase from the lobby of The Beaumont Hotel.

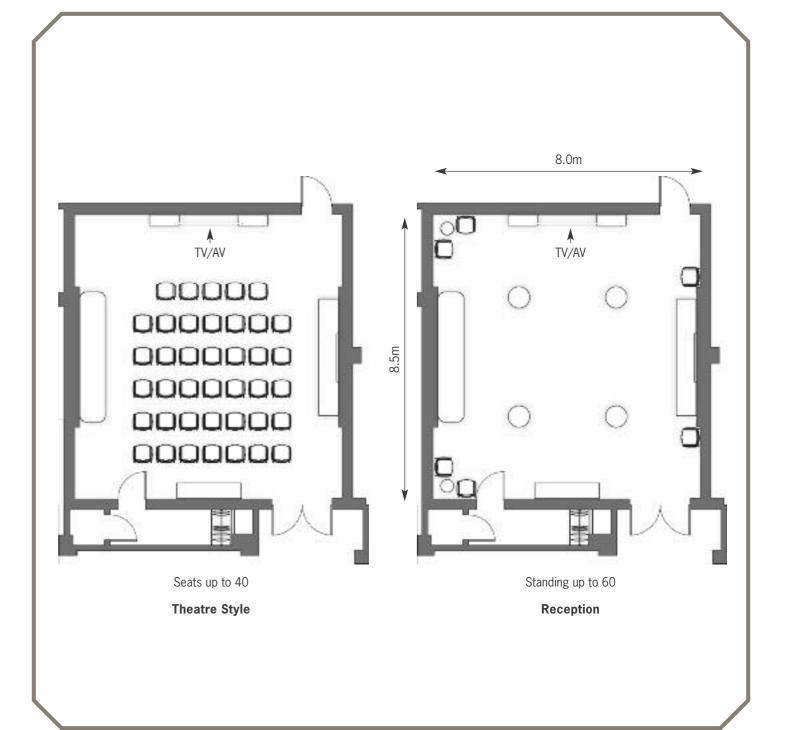

With its richly panelled broad horizontal bands of walnut and cherry, leather chairs, antique artefacts and bespoke Art Deco carpet, it is a versatile room, equally suited to lunches and dinners, as well as standing receptions and presentations.

The Lotos Room at The Beaumont is a highly flexible room for meetings up to 18, banquet dining up to 40, theatre-style seating up to 40 and for standing receptions up to 60 people.
