

WI's Conference Centre and Event Venue

20 Cavendish Square
Royal College of Nursing

Welcome to 20 Cavendish Square

The 18th century town house at no. 20 Cavendish Square, is thought to have been built in 1729 by Edward Shepherd.

This beautiful central locality gradually became one of the most fashionable neighbourhoods of Georgian England. The Royal College of Nursing was founded in 1916 and the RCN headquarters is also home to 20 Cavendish Square Venue.

Beautifully refurbished, our exquisite Grade II listed building is a sophisticated blend of Georgian features and contemporary architecture, the new interior protects the historic character and it has incorporated new facilities to offer our clients a classic yet modern meeting and events space.

Well known in the industry, 20 Cavendish Square have captured the attention not only for meetings and conferences but also for special events such as fashion shows, photoshoots, filming and award ceremonies.

Cowdray Hall

Cowdray Hall is an elegant space that boasts beautiful architecture with its original oak door, stained glass windows and high ceiling.

Mixed with modern events facilities, it has flexible staging that can be adapted to suit your needs.
