IN-HOUSE HYBRID PACKAGE

We've developed a new package that offers the best of both worlds when it comes to hybrid and in person events – our in-house hybrid package. This package enables all the benefits of face-to-face interactions, balanced with safe, social distancing measures, meaning your delegates don't have to worry about unreliable internet, small screens or all distractions that come with being at home.

This package gives exclusive use of the venue, allowing up to 69 delegates to split up into different rooms, all equipped with large screens to be able to stream content from the Kingston Theatre. This means that all delegates can hear the same content and have discussions in their rooms after.

Of course, no event is complete without catering, which is why these packages include tea and coffee and lunch, either delivered to the rooms or in the Waterside Room with staggered timings.
