

Food & Drinks

Aside from the history, charm and spectacular views, The Gun boasts incredible diversity in culinary selection and drinks choices from canapes to sharing platters to beer buckets and premium wines.

About Us

The Gun, Grade II listed building, dates back to the early 18th century but took its current name from the cannon which was fired to celebrate the opening of the West India Import Docks in 1771.

In the late 1700s, Lord Horatio Nelson acquired a property just up the road and he regularly visited the docks to inspect the guns up until his glorious death at the battle of Trafalgar in 1805.

Lord Nelson would frequent The Gun and regularly meet Lady Emma Hamilton in an upstairs room (now called The River Room) for their secret assignments.

The Gun also has a long association with smugglers landing contraband on the site and distributing it via a hidden tunnel.
