

BIBLIOTHEQUE WINE LIST

I remembered reading Truman Capote's masterpiece, In Cold Blood, as a teenager; my first real memory of the True-Crime genre. I recently pulled out my copy over a glass of wine—a bottle of syrah I had opened the night before. I dug back into the classic novel and simultaneously worked my way to the bottom of the bottle. Unexpectedly, the rugged and rustic texture of the wine lead me down the “unpaved” dirt and gravel roads of the isolated farmlands of Kansas. The “true account of a multiple murder and its consequences” immediately lifted the sanguine and meaty notes of the syrah, while the warmth from each sip felt like protection against the lurking, ominous threats. Impressively, none of this was showing in the wine the night before! There was a synergy that all great pairings have—the wine elevated the narrative and the novel allowed for a more pleasurable drinking experience. Conceptually, the Bibliotheque wine list was born...

As a bookstore/wine bar collaboration, the main throughline of the list is to find the intersection between the literary world and the wine world. Most wine professionals love a good pairing; we pair with food, with seasons, with experiences. Most recently, we have seen efforts to pair wine with various humanities--wine with music, wine with art...so why not pair great wines with great books? While navigating a wine list can be intimidating, at Bibliotheque we try to make searching for a wine as fun as searching for your next great read. The list is organized into two sections. While the later half is the “Full Story”; our entire wine list categorized regionally, as a majority of today's wine lists are organized, in the first half you will find special “book chapters”. These chapters are grouped by classic bookstore genre (Classics, Romance, Best Sellers, DIY, etc). Each category is whimsically filled with wines selected to “pair” with said genre. Perhaps you want to pair a soft, seductive wine with your new romance novel. Conversely, maybe you are sitting in our lounge after a hard day with a glass of bubbles and you decide it is time to read the latest self-help book. Either way, Bibliotheque has you covered. Happy wine hunting!

CHAPTER 7: Classics

“No thing more excellent nor more valuable than wine was ever granted mankind by God.” – Plato

What makes a classic wine producer? Time, of course. Time confirms that a producers beauty in winemaking is not just the fashion of a moment, but something deeper and more enduring. These benchmark names are etched in our minds as a measure of which all others are considered.

CHAPTER 9: Art History

“Wine is the only artwork you can drink.” – Luis Fernando Olaverri

The wine bottle as a canvas for artistic expression was first introduced by Mouton Rothschild in 1945, resulting in collaborations with the likes of Hockney, Warhol, Dalí and Picasso. Many producers followed in their artistic footsteps with labels that have become calling cards and collectors' items, while also evoking emotions and telling stories. A perfect prelude to pleasurable tasting.

CHAPTER 10: Gardening

“Wine is sunlight, held together by water.” – Galileo Galilei

Do you have the “Greenie Meanies” and enjoy the “herbaceous” or “vegetal” side of wine. Often leaning more savory rather than fruit-forward, classic examples like Sauvignon Blanc, Grüner Veltliner, Cabernet Franc, or Cabernet Sauvignon offer a range of notes from mint to asparagus to bell pepper to eucalyptus. Dig in and explore the garden of the wine world!

CHAPTER 11: Travel

In truth, all wine is an echo of its landscape, of the vines planted there, and the sound that they make in the form of their fruits.” – Doug Frost

Just as Napa Cabernet Sauvignon made people believers in American wine and Malbec put Argentina on the international wine map You may be familiar with Nebbiolo from Italy or Syrah from France, but how do these wines show when grown outside of their home regions? Every place has a unique experience awaiting you.

CHAPTER 12: Criticism

“The 100-point system is flawed, of course, but it’s also emerged as perhaps the most effective tool to have spoken to a lot of consumers in the past three decades.” – Jon Bonne

Taste Perfection? Although a polarizing scale, hundreds of thousands of wines are submitted for critical consideration each year.

Few wines achieve the extraordinary distinction as 100-point wines.

All the wines below received a perfect 100 point score from at least one of the major wine reviewers and publications.

CHAPTER 13: Fantasy

*“Age appears best in four things:
Old wood to burn, old wine to drink, old friends to trust, and old authors to read.”*

*Remove limitations and lose yourself in the story. The wines dreams are made of.

CHAPTER 15: Agriculture

One of the oldest beverages known to man, an ancient thirst for beer may have inspired agriculture. Stanford researchers have found the oldest archaeological evidence of beer brewing, a discovery that supports the hypothesis that in some regions, beer may have been an underlying motivation to cultivate cereal grain.

The Wines of Domaine de La Romanée-Conti

A document published during the French Revolution remarked on the wines of Romanée-Conti “the most excellent of all those of the Côte d’Or...Its brilliant and velvety color, its ardor and scent, charm all the senses....Well kept, it always improves as it approaches its eighth or tenth year; it is then a balm for the elderly, the feeble and the disabled, and will restore life to the dying.”
