MEZCAL

Mezcal is often thought of as the smokier cousins of tequila. but this is far from accurate representation of the worlds most complex spirit.

Both Mezcal and Tequila are made using Agave. But the flavour profiles and complexity of the 2 spirits differ greatly While Tequila is often massed produced using agave that is aged for a minium amount of time.

Any agave used for mezcal needs to be mature on the ground 7-35 years Like wine it is influenced by the terrain and climate and aging.
