Customs House Bar is a traditional Australian pub, and one of the oldest in Sydney. This large, busy pub has a great atmosphere and is conveniently located in the heart of the city. Situated within the leafy bounds of Macquarie Park, just a stone's throw from Circular Quay, lies over 160 years of history.

Built in 1826, Customs House Bar has been host to famous Australian Icons such as Charles Kingsford Smith. Refurbished in 2006, the pub successfully blends tradition with innovation, retaining its original 160-year old marble bar that is now heritage listed. Customs House Bar is proud of its long history and continues to serve beer in pint glasses, a trademark feature of the pub.
