Our Executive Chef Oliver Mellers, passion is providing delicious, exciting food, delivering heartfelt and intuitive service, and making your event seem effortless.

Oli started his food journey growing up in the kitchens of his parents' restaurants and went on to complete his apprenticeship in Hobart before travelling to London to learn traditional French cooking techniques. Once in London he became the Sous chef at Lord's Cricket Ground as well as studying butchery in Devon, seafood at the famous London Fish Markets and pastry with Thierry Besselievre. Working with the team has been a delight - their professionalism and friendliness are consistent throughout the planning stages and the event execution.

Ease of access and parking along with the flexibility of the spaces makes it really appealing. Clients are drawn to the natural light and warm timber interior of the Derwent Room. The ability to use the Arena to its full capacity but also transform it into an intimate space means that it can be the right 'fit' for most occasions.
