Locally sourced and sustainable, these London companies will delight your guests.

Our Philosophy: How we select suppliers

Supporting local businesses

We support local businesses that give back to our community.

Our caterers are independently owned businesses that work with local suppliers to ensure produce is seasonal and responsibly sourced.

Sustainable practices

Our caterers work to reduce their waste and carbon footprint.

They reduce single use plastic, and all food is delivered on ceramic platters.

Deliveries are made by carbon-neutral methods, such as electric bikes. Their employees are paid fair wages.

Our Philosophy: Why it works

Why it works for you:

Keeping costs low

We worked hard selecting our caterers to ensure our clients get the best possible prices.

They advise quantities based on guest numbers to ensure minimum food waste at the end of your event.

We've also worked with them to ensure you don't get charged for anything additional (like disposable plates when we have ceramic plates onsite).

Why it works for us:

Sustainability

We care deeply about our Techspace team, serving our members and our impact on the world.

We work hard to care for our people and planet. We are proud to be a PlanetMark certified business.
