Environmental Dashboard

working towards a cleaner planet...

A two-month rigorous exercise conducted by an environmental researcher has enabled Gompels to classify the environmental impact of all stocked products. Gompels now has the ability to calculate and score each product with an emissions rating. A brand-new Environmental Dashboard allows users to see their carbon emissions based on their purchasing decisions.

Olivia who conducted the research said "Making sustainability a priority is something that is not going away, it will only become more important over the coming years. Gompels are making massive improvements to their worst offending products and will be sourcing eco-friendly alternatives for their customers who want to reduce their environmental impact."

Look out for our CO<sub>2</sub> and Eco Index Rating on our packaging and website

stay a step ahead

Ramblegard was founded early in 1996, having identified a need to provide a simple fall prevention solution for those caring for the aged and infirm. Later that year the flagship 'Floorgard' system was launched and its simple reliability, which enjoyed widespread success, was the foundation on which Ramblegard is now established as a reputable player in the marketplace. The Ramblegard brand is not just about quality products, but rather focuses on providing fall prevention and patient monitoring solutions to healthcare organisations nationwide.
