

ADDRESSING YOUTH VIOLENCE, KNIFE CRIME AND DANGERS TO PERSONAL SAFETY

A SERIES OF MINI-AWARDS FOR EDUCATION PROVIDERS FROM OCN LONDON

The escalation in youth violence and gang culture is causing widespread concern amongst the public. Recently the Government introduced the Serious Violence Strategy in response to recent increases in knife crime, gun crime and homicide – a positive move.

The education sector has an important role to pay in addressing these issues. We have put together a package of mini-Awards under the themes of staying safe, managing conflict and developing emotional resilience. These can be offered as workshops or short courses at any time in the year, either individually or packaged together in a course about personal safety.

Funding has been approved for learners aged 14 and above from the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA)

“OUR AMBITION SHOULD BE TO BECOME THE SAFEST COUNTRY IN THE WORLD. ANYTHING LESS IS LETTING OUR YOUNG PEOPLE DOWN.”

Sarah Jones MP, Chair of the All-Party Parliamentary Group on knife crime.

“WE NEED TO ACTUALLY FIND OUT FROM THE YOUNG PEOPLE WHY THEY THINK IT’S [GANG VIOLENCE] HAPPENING AND WHAT THEY THINK CAN BE DONE.”

Patsy McKie, founding member of Mothers Against Violence.

Here is the list of Awards.
