Section 1 – General Information

This document contains details of everything you need to know about the Hospitality Skills Passport. It refers to the curriculum areas covered and identifies the Learners for whom this scheme has been developed. The document should be used by all involved in its delivery.

Purpose of the programme and who it is for

The 'Hospitality Skills Passport' is a new (2025) employer-led entry standard for the Hospitality industry, designed for delivery through a range of approved training and education routeways.

The programme introduces participants to the breadth of opportunity the Hospitality industry offers for flexible jobs and meaningful careers. It is open to Learners progressing via any recognised routeway, including apprenticeships, study programmes, technical qualifications, adult training programmes, and targeted employability provision.

On completion, Learners will be issued a Hospitality Skills Passport, accredited and certificated by OCN London in partnership with UKHospitality, the sector's leading trade body.

The Hospitality Skills Passport is the universal entry standard for the industry.

Programme design

Commissioned by the Hospitality Sector Council and overseen by the Hospitality and Tourism Skills Board, UKHospitality has consulted widely with employers across the breadth of the industry to create this employer led universal entry standard to meet industry needs.

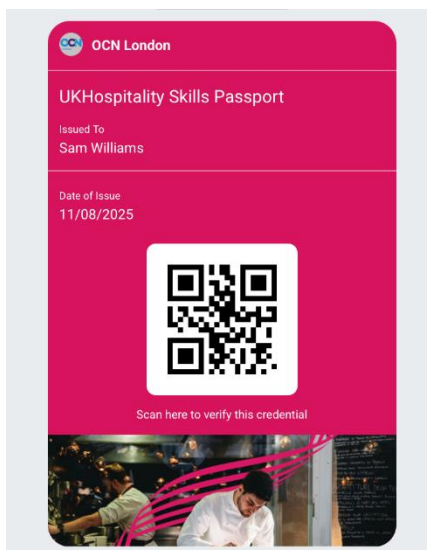

In collaboration with curriculum experts from HIT Training and the Capital City College Group; the knowledge, skills and behaviours (KSBs) from the level 2 Commis Chef, Production Chef and Food and Beverage Team Member Apprenticeships have been taken back to entry and level 1 KSBs to make up the core content of the programme.

The Passport is aligned to the new Level Apprenticeships (see table below). This mapping therefore enables entry level starters into the industry to be on track immediately if they choose to progress onto these level 2 apprenticeships.

The six Essential Employment Skills, as defined by the National Federation of Education Research, have been integrated into the content to give confidence to Learners that they will know by the end of the programme what employers need and value from their employees.

Working with industry leading providers of statutory training has enabled the required content to be integrated as defined Learning Outcomes (LOs) which the issue of the digital Hospitality Skills Passport verifies.

The Digital Badge that a Learner receives upon completion of the programme is delivered as an email link and it is accessible online. It can subsequently be stored in either Apple or Google wallets, as shown below:

Structure of delivery

The delivery model is flexible to suit different training and education routeways and settings, including college-based programmes, work-based learning, or blended approaches. Delivery will normally combine classroom or workshop sessions led by experienced hospitality and catering staff, employer engagement activities to bring the curriculum to life, and statutory training which may be completed online or in person.

All routes will include a meaningful period of work experience, either with one or more employers or within a provider setting with appropriate industry-standard facilities. The duration and sequencing of activities may vary depending on the routeway.

Digital Badge Issuance Process

There are a number of training and education routeways that will allow for achievement and/or demonstration of the Learning Outcomes set out in this Specification. The majority are listed below - this list is not exhaustive however, and if you would like to discuss particular aspects of delivery, please contact OCN London.

Assessment requirements

Assessment takes place throughout the particular programme and is focused on attendance, attitude, and readiness to work; and successful completion further requires full completion of all statutory training prior to work experience completion. So whilst Assessment Guidance is detailed in Section 2 below, this is a guide and does not constitute formal requirements of the programme.

A Centre application for award of the 'Hospitality Skills Passport' to an individual serves as a confirmation of successful completion.

Evidence of participation and formative assessment focused on attendance, attitude, readiness to work, and full completion of all statutory training will however need to be retained by Centres for quality assurance and audit purposes, and to support subsequent evaluation activities.

Guidance on this will be provided by UKHospitality and OCN London.

The key purpose of the Hospitality Skills Passport is to set out the LOs that an individual has achieved or can demonstrate in practice. Issuing the Passport is an attestation of that capability. The accompanying Assessment Criteria and Assessment Guidance are examples only: they illustrate how the LOs might reasonably be tested and evidenced and indicate the expected breadth and level. Evidence may be gathered in the employer's premises as part of work experience, or in Centre-based/simulated settings, as appropriate. Centres may use alternative valid methods that align to the outcomes and meet quality assurance expectations.

Entry requirements and information for participants

There are no formal entry requirements for the programme, and it is open to all Learners accessing it through any recognised routeway. Relevant partner organisations, providers, and employers will provide participants with information and guidance about the programme before they start, ensuring that Learners understand the expectations and opportunities it offers.

Opportunities for progression

The Hospitality Skills Passport provides a foundation for progression into a range of next steps, such as:

- Apprenticeships at Level 2 in Commis Chef, Production Chef, and Food and Beverage Team Member.
- Hospitality and Catering qualifications at Level 1 and 2 in college or with other providers.
- Full- or part-time employment in the hospitality sector.

Learners will have a meaningful and appropriate choice of options to support their career and learning pathway, whatever routeway they originally used to access the Passport.

Required resources for delivering the programme

The minimum qualifications, knowledge, and experience required of those teaching and assessing are equivalent to those for delivering Level 1 hospitality and catering qualifications.

All participants must have access to suitable IT equipment (computers or mobile devices) for completing any online or virtual learning elements, including statutory training or digital self-study resources, where applicable to the delivery routeway.

Programme evaluation and review

UKHospitality and OCN London work in partnership with key stakeholders to ensure the programme remains relevant and high quality. As part of this, evaluation will take place both immediately after delivery and at set intervals thereafter. Centres delivering the Hospitality Skills Passport will be required to gather Learner contact details and support the evaluation process so that it can be carried out effectively.

OCN London will provide detailed guidance to Centres on these requirements.

Becoming an OCN London Approved Centre to deliver this programme

OCN London will carry out a basic check on Centres already approved by us – in line with the 'Required resources for delivering the programme' section above. Once confirmed, the programme will be made available for delivery in accordance with existing Centre Agreements.

Centres not currently approved by OCN London may apply to deliver the Hospitality Skills Passport. In these cases, a streamlined, time-limited approval process will be carried out, alongside a basic resource check, and approval will permit delivery of this programme only. Following approval, the Centre will operate under a new Centre Agreement.

In both cases, full details about costs and guidance will be provided by OCN London.

Section 2 – Knowledge, Skills, and Behaviours (KSBs)

The following KSBs have been developed by and are unique to UKHospitality and do not form part of a regulated qualification.

UKHospitality retains ownership of the KSBs in this document unless they have agreed to share with other organisations to support their curriculum development.

The Passport defines the LOs against which an individual's capability is attested. Assessment Criteria and Assessment Guidance are provided solely as exemplification to illustrate the breadth and level of the LOs and possible approaches to testing and evidence. They are indicative and non-exhaustive and do not constitute mandatory requirements; Centres may adopt alternative, valid and reliable methods consistent with the outcomes and Centre quality assurance.
