HANGING INSTRUCTIONS [M]

IMPORTANT

This wallcovering is manufactured with natural mica (mineral stone) and understandably, these will vary. Due to the nature of this product, one of its many characteristics is the differences in shades from one batch to another as well as from one length to another. The joints may be noticeable (being lighter or darker shade at the edge), especially if the specific colour you have chose is a dark colourway. These irregularities are part of the charm and unique character of the product.

ATTENTION

Some small mica particles may come loose during transport or during installation. Generally, this is because there is a “surplus” of mica, and there will be no marks left on the wallcovering. However, if after installation you notice some empty spots because of lacking mica, these can be mended by glueing loose mica particles into these areas (taken from a left over piece of wallcovering), with a transparent non-staining adhesive.
