

Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and Self-Service Platform – Disclaimer and Terms of Use

By accessing and using the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform, you agree to the following terms of use (Terms of Use):

Scope of Designation

The Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index designation:

- Validates the specific documentation provided by the applicant against a set of criteria that demonstrate the applicant has a set of recognized capabilities.

PLEASE NOTE: The Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index designation does not entail any kind of certification, validation or endorsement of (i) any aspect of the applicant, (ii) the quality or other aspects of its activities or products or XML API, (iii) any commercial products that may be derived from the usage of validated messages or the XML API.

Disclaimer

The International Air Transport Association (IATA) does not validate the quality or other aspects of the entity's activities or products, stand-alone or in comparison with those of other entities, nor does it validate, certify or endorse any commercial products that may be derived from the usage of EASD messages validated under the ARM index. Furthermore, by maintaining the ARM index Registry, IATA does not take any position with respect to the relative quality or other aspects of the activities or products of other entities that are not verified under the ARM index.

IATA shall not be held responsible for any loss or damage caused by errors, omissions, misprints or misinterpretation of the contents of the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform. Furthermore, IATA expressly disclaims any and all liability to any person or entity, including users of the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform, in respect of anything done or omitted, and the consequences of anything done or omitted, by any such person or entity in reliance on the contents of the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform.

Intellectual Property and Permitted Use

All right, title and interest in the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform and its content shall remain with IATA. The Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform and its content, in whole or in part, may solely be used for internal study and application purposes, and for no other purpose. For clarity, users shall be allowed to download only the specific content made available for download on the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform, subject to the permitted uses set out above. In any event, no part of the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform may in any way be incorporated, distributed or otherwise used for any purpose that is commercial in character, whether or not for profit. Except as per the permitted downloads detailed above, no part of the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform or its content may be reproduced, recast, reformatted or transmitted in any form by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording or any information storage and retrieval system, without prior written permission from:

International Air Transport Association
Senior Vice-President, Financial & Distribution Services c/o IATA ARM index Team
Route de l'Aéroport 33, 1215 Geneva, SWITZERLAND
Email: armi@iata.org

Governing Law

These Terms of Use and your use of the Airline Retailing Maturity (ARM) index Registry and/or Self-Service Platform hereunder are governed by the laws of the Province of Quebec and the laws of Canada (excluding conflict of law principles) as to all matters. You irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Quebec, for the purposes of any proceeding in connection with these Terms of Use or the subject matter hereof.