

Shelter Projects Photo Competition 2022

Do you want your picture to be on the cover of shelter projects?

How can we capture the essence of a shelter project in a single picture?

How can an image represent the meaning of humanitarian shelter?

Can an image show what sheltering displaced populations means?

Photographers around the world can participate by submitting their pictures. After the end of the submission period, the photos will be published for public voting.

The main winner's picture will illustrate the cover of the next Shelter Projects publication, and runners-up will be used in other communication products of the Shelter Projects Working Group and the Global Shelter Cluster.

The final winners' selection will be made by the editors and voting will be public.
