Community platform for creators

Part community, part game, part business, part learning. Earn a living bringing people together to collaborate on shared goals and interests. Make friends, hangout, earn money, and have fun!

CREATE YOUR COMMUNITY   SEE IT IN ACTION

TURN YOUR PASSION   INTO A COMMUNITY   LEARN TOGETHER   MAKE MONEY

Skool.com: Your All-in-One Platform for Courses & Community

Skool.com is an integrated platform tailored for creators, coaches, educators, and business owners looking to build interactive, monetizable communities with educational content—all in one place. Here's what makes it stand out:

Core Features

- Community + Courses + Events
  Skool combines a community feed (clean and ad-free) with structured courses and event scheduling tools—ideal for organized engagement.👉 Skool.com

- Course Hosting
  Organize lessons using a drag-and-drop editor, embed videos, upload files, and share links—all within one streamlined interface👉 Skool.com

- Event Calendar
  Easily plan webinars, Q&As, or live meetups; events auto-adjust to members' time zones and sync with Google, Outlook, or Apple calendars👉 Skool.com

- Gamification
  Boost engagement with leaderboards, levels, and points for member interactions—keeping community activity fun and consistent.👉 Skool.com

- SEO-Optimized Content
  Unlike Facebook or Discord, community posts on Skool can be indexed and found via search engines, amplifying reach.👉 Skool.com

---

What People Are Saying

Positive Feedback

- A user comparing Skool to platforms like Kajabi praised its simplicity and all-in-one functionality:

  "Having something all in one is going to speed things up for you big time… Skool does a great job at that."👉 Skool.com

- Another noted:

  "Skool is an easy online platform where creators, coaches, and consultants can build active communities…👉 Skool.com

- On growth:

  "Skool does communities well.… It's run by Alex Hormozi and Sam Ovens, two of the best marketers…👉 Skool.com

Concerns & Criticisms

- Some users express skepticism about the platform's community quality:

  "It's all just overhyped. Maybe 10% of all Skool communities have real valuable information…"👉 Skool.com

● And others criticize the pricing or customer experience:

"They don't manage to let me cancel… lost £60…👉 Skool.com

Pricing & Plans

● Free Tier: Skool offers a perpetual free plan that includes core features—courses, community, basic management tools.👉 Skool.com

● Premium Plan: $99/month for unlimited courses, members, advanced analytics, automation, integrations, and priority support.👉 Skool.com

● No Hidden Fees: You pay month-to-month and cancel anytime. There is a modest 2.9% transaction fee if using internal payments.👉 Skool.com

---

Affiliate Program: Earn Recurring Income

Skool's affiliate program is standout for its fairness and automation:

● Commission: Earn 40% of your referrals' monthly subscription for life.👉 Skool.com
● Auto Affiliate Attribution: If someone from your group creates their own Skool group, it's automatically credited to you.👉 Skool.com

● Affiliate Toolkit (Supportive Community): Gain access to funnel setups, email sequences, coaching calls, bonus systems, and more—all to help you succeed.👉 Skool.com

● Advanced Tracking & Payments:

   ○ Set commission rate (0–50%), manage referrals, and get payouts all through your Skool dashboard👉 Skool.com

○ Uses a 14-day cookie attribution model. Commissions adjust if refunds or cancellations occur. Admin/moderator roles control eligibility.👉 Skool.com

---

Recommended Courses on Skool

While Skool hosts many community-run courses, here are a few where the platform itself enhances course delivery—especially for affiliates:

1. Affiliate Toolkit

   ○ A free Skool-led community coaching you how to promote Skool effectively and earn recurring revenue. Includes prepared marketing materials, training, and monthly coaching.👉 Skool.com

2. Super Affiliate Academy

   ○ Mentioned by users as a helpful entry-level training hub, packed with digital products for new affiliate marketers.👉 Skool.com

3. General Business & Course Creator Communities

   ○ While not always titled "courses," many active communities on Skool offer structured, paid content for niches like personal development, entrepreneurship, and coaching—leveraging Skool's design to keep members engaged.

Your Custom Affiliate Link

Here's your personalized affiliate link—feel free to embed it naturally into your content:
👉 Skool.com

Sample Article Intro Snippet

Are you looking for a powerful, easy-to-manage platform to build courses and communities? Look no further than Skool.com—where teaching, engagement, and monetization happen in one sleek interface. Best of all, you can start earning right away through Skool's generous affiliate program. Sign up here to get started: 👉 Skool.com

Final Thoughts

Skool.com shines for creators seeking simplicity, engagement, and monetization in one platform. Its robust affiliate system—coupled with automation and supportive training—makes it a compelling choice for both building revenue streams and growing communities.

Have a specific audience or niche in mind? I'd love to help you tailor your strategy or suggest course ideas that convert best. Just let me know!

Best-Selling Courses & Communities on Skool

1. Kourse (Free) by Max Perzon

Type: Free
 Members: 109,700+
 Highlight: Join a highly successful training community where Max shares his formula for earning over $2.1M in the first year and scaling to $250k/month. The group includes monthly giveaways and has helped many win the Skool Games 👉 Skool.com

2. Kourse (Paid – Private)

Type: Paid (by application)
 Members: 841
 Highlight: A premium, hands-on program with masterclasses, funnel systems (via GoHighLevel), AI support, and live Q&A with Max and expert coaches👉 Skool.com

3. Ultimate Branding Course

Type: Paid
 Members: 55,700+
 Highlight: Focused on helping individuals master high-paying branding skills. Designed for exceptional scale, this course serves a massive, motivated audience👉 Skool.com

4. The RoboNuggets Community

Type: $99/month
 Members: 1,500+

Highlight: Learn how to build and automate using latest AI tools with expert masterclasses and a passionate niche community—from AI agencies to entrepreneurs👉 Skool.com

---

Real-World Perspective

Skool is often praised for its clean interface, intuitive engagement tools, and mobile app. Bloggers and creators consistently report higher member interaction and satisfaction 👉 Skool.com

However, as GroupApp points out, Skool feels like a strong starting point—not a full enterprise-level solution. It lacks advanced features like deep branding, native video hosting, automation, and marketing tools 👉 Skool.com

---

How to Embed the Affiliate Link Elegantly

Instead of displaying the full URL, simply link "Skool.com" throughout:

> Whether you're ready to launch a course, build community, or boost engagement with gamification, 👉 Skool.com lets you manage everything in one place.