

loaf

...BUT WILL IT FIT?

So you're thinking of snagging yourself a storage bed from our loafingly lovely collection? Excellent. The next question you need to ask yourself is "Will it fit into my house?" Follow our handy guide and get measured up...

PS if you still have questions, give our Chatterboxes a bell on 0203 141 8300 and they should be able to help.

OK, let's do this...

1 MEASURING YOUR STORAGE BED

First, scribble down the dimensions of your storage bed in the boxes below (use FIG. 1 for help). You can find all Storage bed dimensions at loaf.com. You'll need to refer to these as you take various measurements around your home.

It's worth noting that our storage beds come in two parts so you will need to measure half the width if you're eyeing up our Store bed, or half the length if measuring up our Space or Tight Space bed.

H: W: L:

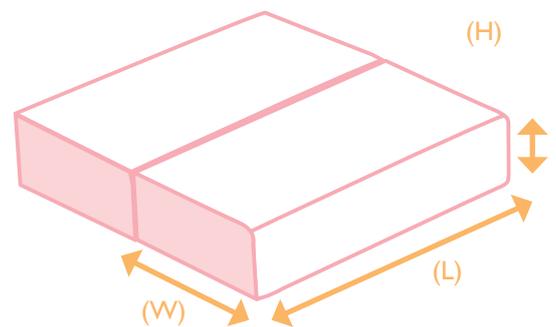

FIG. 1

2 MEASURING YOUR HOME

Using FIG. 2 as a guide, measure the height (A) between the ceiling and the stairs at the narrowest point. Record your measurement here:

A:

If (A) is wider than the width (W) of your storage bed it will fit.

Next check if your storage bed can be maneuvered through your landing. Measure the width (B), depth (C) and height (D) of your landing. Record your measurement here:

B: C: D:

Is (B) equal or greater than the width (W) of your bed?

Is (C) at least 1/2 the length (L) of your bed?

Is (D) equal to or more than length (L) of your bed?

If the answer to all 3 questions is yes, then your bed will fit.

Still not sure? Just give our Chatterboxes a bell on 0203 141 8300 and they can help. You can of course return any of our beds free of charge up to 14 days.

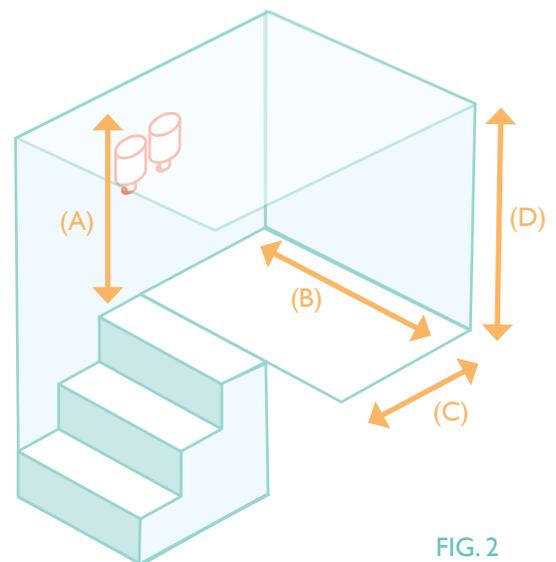

FIG. 2